This is a “Bronze” level Trademark Monitoring Report. The MARK and “Goods and Services” (representing Class Code(s)) are featured here.

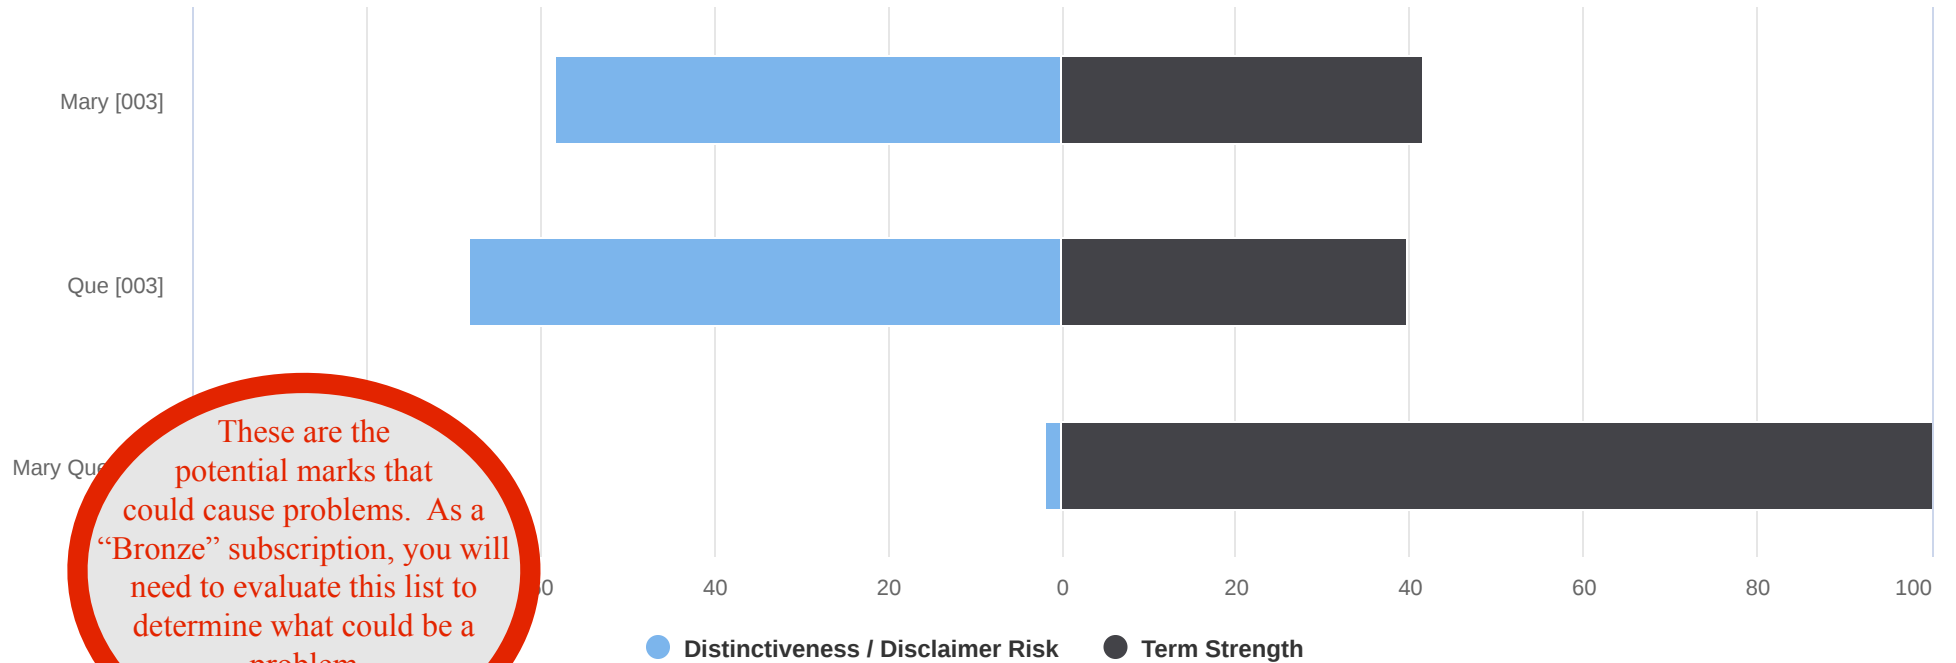

This is a hypothetical, where we’ve pretended to monitor MARY QUE as a pre-existing trademark, knowing that this would trigger any hits related to MARY KAY. This is intended to show that the word “QUE” has a similar sound (even though it looks very different) to the word “KAY”, and it is therefore important to relate the two words KAY and QUE. Furthermore, “QUE” is the Spanish word for “Who”, and therefore the English word “WHO” can also be an issue, along with synonyms of WHO. This is intended as an exercise in trademark monitoring only, and is done WITHOUT the permission of Mary Kay, Inc., and our use of these examples is in no way intended to imply a relationship or approval by or from Mary Kay, Inc.

Confusion Risks

This scattergram plot provides an analysis of potential problems. Marks in the upper-right represent the greatest problems and issues. Lower-left the least problematic.

Descriptiveness Risk / Term Strength

These are the potential marks that could cause problems. As a “Bronze” subscription, you will need to evaluate this list to determine what could be a problem
